JUNE IS LGBTQ+ PRIDE MONTH

For LGBTQ+ patients, non-judgmental, affordable healthcare is especially important. Texas’ anti-trans legislation serves to stop people from accessing essential healthcare. A survey by the National Center for Transgender Equality found that 22% of Texas respondents did not see a doctor when they needed to due to fear of being mistreated as a transgender person, and 38% did not see a doctor when needed because they could not afford it. Planned Parenthood is proud to stand with the LGBTQ+ community and serve as a trusted resource for sexual healthcare and information. All are welcome here.

SUMMER EDUCATION SERIES WORKSHOPS

Planned Parenthood of Greater Texas' professional health educators don’t take a break for summer. In fact, this year they’re offering more opportunities for rising 4th-12th graders in our communities to learn, grow, and connect online and in-person!

Research shows that LGBTQ+ inclusive sex education helps young people develop skills to support become caring and empathetic adults and to prevent unintended pregnancies and sexually transmitted infections. This kind of sex education prevents dating and intimate partner violence, promotes healthy relationships and social and emotional learning, and enhances media literacy. Planned Parenthood is offering a series of workshops for pre-teens, middle schoolers, and high schoolers to learn medically accurate, age-appropriate information about sexual health.

Workshops are free and hosted by the professional education team at Planned Parenthood.
A NEWS CONNECTION

Five women who were denied abortions under Texas law while facing medical crises are suing the state, asking a judge to clarify exceptions to the laws.

"[The women] have been denied necessary and potentially life-saving obstetrical care because medical professionals throughout the state fear liability under Texas's abortion bans," says the lawsuit, filed in state court by the Center for Reproductive Rights on behalf of the five women and two doctors.

Texas’ abortion bans allow only vague and narrow exceptions when a woman’s life is at risk. However, some doctors are not providing abortions in these situations due to Texas’ extreme felony penalties. Healthcare advocates warned of these dangerous outcomes when Texas’ abortions bans were enacted by the Texas Legislature.
